Jays give rookies some tips

Now in its 23rd season, the Jays Care Foundation partners with Toronto Community Housing (TCH) to operate Rookie League for kids aged six to 12 years. For eight weeks, 800 kids from 33 TCH neighbourhoods learn the key skills of baseball and teamwork. Participating players are provided with a hat, water bottle, backpack, glove and T-shirt featuring a Toronto Blue Jays honorary division captain. Each child goes home at the end of the season with a backpack full of school supplies.

Newcomers hit hardest: Study

◐ Unemployment gap found more pronounced in GTA ◐ Recent immigrants working 30 hours a week fell from 86.1 to 82.9%

Immigrants, particularly newcomers, have borne the brunt of unemployment as a result of the recent recession, a new study says.

The unemployment gap between immigrant and Canadian-born workers has grown since the global economic meltdown set off in late 2008 and newcomers in Greater Toronto were most affected, says the study being released Friday.

It is part of a project by the Toronto Immigrant Employment Data Initiative, made up of researchers from York University, University of Toronto and Ryerson University who study immigrant integration in the labour force based on government data.

Based on Statistics Canada labour force survey data, researchers found the unemployment rates for Canadian-born and established immigrants (in Canada for over five years) were at around five per cent at the onset of the recession in November 2008.

"Recent newcomers already experience significant marginalization in the labour market. What is surprising is they are more badly affected than the other groups and the gap has kept widening."

PHILIP KELLY,
YORK UNIVERSITY GEOGRAPHY PROFESSOR

The jobless rate for newcomers — those in Canada for less than five years — was at 10 per cent.

By March 2011, a gap had emerged with the established immigrants' unemployment rate two to 2.5 per cent above their Canadian-born counterparts. The jobless rate for recent newcomers shot up to almost 15 per cent.

The gap was more pronounced in Greater Toronto, where Canadian-born workers had a five per cent unemployment rate in March 2011 — almost four per cent lower than the rate for established immigrants and 10 per cent below the level for recent newcomers.

York University geography professor Philip Kelly, the report's lead investigator, attributed the widening gap in the GTA to job losses in the region's goods-producing sector, including manufacturing and construction, where employment fell by 14 per cent compared to its 2006 level. Across Canada, job loss in the sector averaged five to six per cent.

Kelly said the federal government must invest in retraining and job-search programs for newcomers in Greater Toronto.

Princely hopes for Oshawa's corn fight

Opposition to ethanol plant fuels mayor's bid to sign on eco-minded Prince Charles

The mayor of Oshawa wants Prince Charles to lend an ear to his anti-corn refinery campaign.

Charles, owner of a grape-fuelled sports car, is a "huge environmentalist" who could help stop a proposed ethanol plant from ruining the city's waterfront, says John Henry.

He's written to Britain's heir to the throne, along with eco-friendly heavyweights David Suzuki, novelist Margaret Atwood and Robert Kennedy Jr., asking them to join his fight against the facility that would turn corn into ethanol fuel.

The prince, who had his beloved 40-year-old Aston Martin converted to run on biofuel made from surplus wine, recently criticized the amount of corn that goes into fuel tanks in the U.S.

The federal government, which is considering funding the 12-hectare, $185 million plant, must be told that a "giant factory with huge smokestacks" doesn't belong on Oshawa's "spectacular" waterfront, said Henry, noting there are more suitable locations in Durham Region.

'Monstrosity'

- The plant, first proposed by FarmTech Energy Corp. in 2008, would produce up to 210 million litres of ethanol a year and generate 200 truck trips a day.
- Calling it a "monstrosity" that would affect people and wildlife in the Second Marsh wetlands, environmental activist Brian Brasier listed pollution, noise and traffic among his objections.

Worker struck, killed by VIA Rail train

A CN engineering maintenance worker was struck and killed by a VIA Rail train Thursday afternoon in Pickering.

The accident occurred around 1:15 p.m., about five kilometres east of Guildwood Station, a combined VIA and GO Train station.

The accident took place on tracks between Whites and Liverpool roads, said CN spokesman Frank Binder. That section is not accessible to the general public, he said.

"The portion where the trains operate is strictly for trains. There are no crossings," he said. "It's just tracks that have predominantly GO Transit and VIA Rail operating over them."

The man was working near the tracks before he was killed, Binder said.

However, Binder could not provide any more details about what the man's duties entailed, saying that it was part of the investigation.

The incident is being investigated by CN and Durham Regional Police.

Details from police are scarce at this point.

"There are a lot of steps in this one," said Sgt. Paul McCurbin.

TORSTAR NEWS SERVICE

En route

- The train was en route to Toronto from Montreal and Ottawa, said Malcolm Andrews, a VIA Rail spokesman.

Correction

The bike lanes story on Metro's front page Thursday had some incorrect information. Council actually voted 28-17 to spend $410,000 to erase the bike lanes on Jarvis Street. Toronto actually has 117 kilometres of bike lanes. Metro regrets the errors.

Riding for the sake of education

$100,000 funds raised will be used to build eight classrooms in rural Nicaragua and buy school supplies for 8,000 children

PHOEBE HO
TORONTO@METRONEWS.CA

Killing two birds with one stone, a Toronto resident is fulfilling his dream of cycling across Canada while raising money for something he believes in.

Donning a bright yellow and orange jersey that reads Cycle 4 SchoolBOX, Ilan Levy is cycling 8,000 kilometres across Canada, battling heavy rain, gusty winds and steep terrain to raise $100,000 to build classrooms and provide children in Nicaragua with school supplies.

"When we were introduced to SchoolBOX, we were interested in what they were doing because my wife and I had been very focused on education," he said. "A light bulb went on and I thought, instead of just riding for fun, I could ride and raise funds."

With 3,500 kilometres down and 4,500 kilometres more to go, Cycle 4 SchoolBOX has raised approximately $30,000 so far.

SchoolBOX's Communication Manager Jonathan Tam says that just a few dollars could potentially change the lives of children in Nicaragua.

"The level of disposable income there isn't what it is in Canada," said Tam. "A few dollars worth of school supplies could be a huge barrier to education."

Bike tour

- Starting point The tour began in Vancouver on June 7 and is expected to round up in St. John's, N.L. on Aug. 26.
- Education SchoolBOX is a Canadian charitable organization that helps make education possible for children in Central America. For more, visit cycle4schoolbox.com

Swap pre-loved music and movies

Save the environment and your wallet by swapping your neglected music and movies for a new collection.

In an effort to keep 10,000 media items out of landfills, Swapsity is hosting a movie music eco-swap at Yonge-Dundas Square at the Live Green Toronto Festival on July 16.

"Once watched, DVDs quickly lose their appeal and swapping offers a creative, affordable and green way to get new media items," said Swapsity Founder Marta Nowinska.

Bring your pre-loved DVDs, CDs, Blu-rays and records and receive a swap token for each item you drop off.

A pink-letter day for OPSEU

First round of public service layoffs hits water-safety, air-quality workers Five per cent reduction in jobs announced in budget

Public sector workers in Ontario have received the first wave of pink slips expected as part of planned government cuts.

The Ontario Public Service Employees Union says its members have received 274 layoff notices, kicking off a downsizing that will eliminate 1,900 jobs between now and March.

The cuts mean the province will stop verifying local social-assistance distribution, reduce staffing that monitors collection agencies and lay off 57 people with technical expertise in water safety and air quality.

The union says more notices will be given out over the summer. In protest, it is asking its members to wear pink and put on Band-Aids with the phrase "cuts hurt." TORSTAR NEWS SERVICE

City farms on the block

The small zoos at High Park, Centre Island and Riverdale Farm are on the table as the city looks for ways to cut costs. "We're putting everything on the table," Deputy Mayor Doug Holyday said, holding out a slim hope of salvation: "Some things are obviously totally unreasonable. Politicians are always susceptible to public opinion."

'Cursed syphilis' on the rise

10 There was an almost 10-fold increase in cases of syphilis between 1993 and 2009.

Canada is battling what experts are describing as "the return of the syphilis plague."

The sexually transmitted disease, close to being eradicated in Canada just 13 years ago, is on the rise again. In 2009, there were 1,683 confirmed cases, 1,501 of which affected men. Outbreaks are being fuelled, in part, by inconsistent or improper use of condoms and other safer sex methods, said Jana Lerner, spokesperson for the Public Health Agency of Canada.

Bruce Clarke of Toronto Public Health said about 90 per cent of the 508 cases of syphilis in Toronto last year affected men, 50 to 70 per cent of whom were HIV positive.

The Aids Committee of Toronto, in conjunction with the province and Toronto Public Health, has created what looks like a 1950s B-movie poster for "Attack of the Cursed Syphilis." It shows a green monster attacking a man and warns "guys watch out ... If you've got HIV, syphilis can hit you harder and faster." TORSTAR NEWS SERVICE

Tattoo artist inks barcode on friend

A Paris artist claims to be the first to tattoo a human with a barcode that can be scanned by smartphones.

Tattoo artist Karl Marc said he was approached by whisky company Ballantine's about tattooing the Quick Response (QR) barcode. Marc nabbed a pal, Marco, as a volunteer to get the tattoo, which reportedly took four hours. When scanned, the QR code sends the viewer to a video of the process.

"I had a camera strapped to my head as well as microphones and battery packs. We didn't know if the Matrix code would actually work right up to the very end. It worked on paper, but would it work as a tattoo?"Marc said. It did. TORSTAR NEWS SERVICE

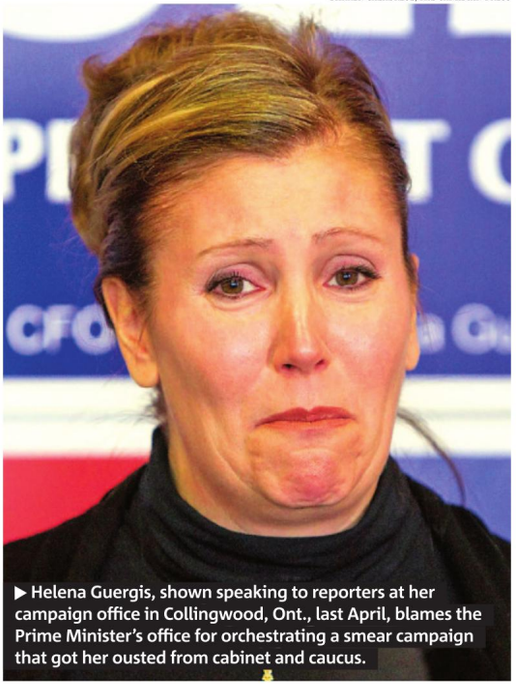
Ruling on Guergis out

DARREN CALABRESE/THE CANADIAN PRESS



▶ Helena Guergis, shown speaking to reporters at her campaign office in Collingwood, Ont., last April, blames the Prime Minister's office for orchestrating a smear campaign that got her ousted from cabinet and caucus.

▶ Former MP breached ethics rules: Commissioner ▶ Probe took too long to complete, says NDP's Pat Martin

At least some of Stephen Harper's concerns about his former minister Helena Guergis were borne out Thursday by the federal ethics watchdog, who found the former Ontario MP had breached conflict-of-interest rules.

When the prime minister turfed Guergis from cabinet and caucus in April 2009, it was over then-unspecified allegations of ethical breaches and possible criminal activity.

A party lawyer later said it was feared she was using her office to lend an "aura of connectedness" to her husband Rahim Jaffer as he tried to expand his consulting business.

On the ethical front, Conflict of Interest and Ethics Commissioner Mary Dawson found that Guergis used her office to help further Jaffer's interests when she wrote a letter on behalf of a constituent who was also a business contact of her husband's.

There is no sanction for the former MP, who lost her seat in the May 2 election.

New Democrat MP Pat Martin, who sat on a Commons committee that investigated allegations Jaffer was using Guergis' office to engage in illegal lobbying, said he's disappointed it took so long for the report to be published.

A year later, the lobbying commissioner also has yet to report on her own investigation into Jaffer's activities. THE CANADIAN PRESS

Patience and advice help Mexican entrepreneur reap rich harvest

Coming from a historic Mexican coffee region, entrepreneur Miguel Ángel Abascal appreciates that success – like a harvest of Arabica beans – takes patience and care. He applied that same philosophy when he moved to Canada, with the support of his trusted Advisor at Scotiabank.

"You need at least four years for a coffee plant to yield the first beans, so it takes time to produce a good harvest," explains Miguel, who was chief executive officer of Gran Café de la Parroquia, a famed coffee company with roots going back to the cafés of colonial Veracruz in 1808. "This also applies for Canadian immigrants, since you must take your time and make good decisions to get quality results."

Miguel first saw the link between Canada and coffee culture two years ago when he decided to apply as a permanent resident and introduce the Gran Café de la Parroquia brand to the Canadian market. His firm already exported gourmet organic coffees to Europe, so Canada made sense since Canadians are among the world's largest coffee consumers.

"I saw that Canadians are open to the coffee experience, and since this country offers so much diversity and respect, there are many opportunities for my business and personal ambitions," raves Miguel who began importing Mexico's mild, exotic coffees for Canadian merchants in early 2011.

Determined to do his research before coming to Canada, a happy coincidence made the task easier: Miguel's former account executive at Scotiabank Inverlat in Mexico, Elsy Balboa, had been transferred to Toronto in 2007. Always happy with the service that Elsy and Scotiabank had provided in his native country, Miguel renewed contact to begin planning his move.

"It can be a shock changing countries and starting from scratch, so Elsy explained everything, from safe and easy ways to transfer my money to credit card rates," recalls Miguel.

"It's important for a customer to feel comfortable with their Advisor and get answers to every question," says Elsy, a Financial Advisor at the 1391 Lawrence West & Keele Branch in North York. To help Miguel manage his expenses and obtain a credit card for routine needs, she recommended the Scotiabank StartRight® Program[1] for Newcomers, which includes a free day-to-day bank account for one year[2], a wide range of VISA* card options[3] and a number of other customized services and benefits. "It was easy to open a Canadian account and arrange a wire transfer of funds."

"With my financial side secure, Elsy also answered questions like a friend, discussing everything from apartment prices to health insurance," says Miguel, who is amazed how the Canadian bank offers this level of advice to all newcomers.

"Everything is like a process, as you build networks and relationships," says Miguel, reflecting on his first year in Canada. "But, if you find a trusted coach who gives honest advice, it's much easier to do things right and have a good harvest."

THIS ADVERTORIAL IS PREPARED BY SCOTIABANK.

Second banana good — if you're a baboon

- Beta males buffered from stress factors, study shows
- But stress expert cautions comparisons to humans

A new study of wild baboons in Africa over a period of nine years found the top-ranked alpha males had the highest levels of both sex hormones and stress hormones.

The beta males, the next ones down in the baboon hierarchy, had similar opportunities to get food and get together with females, the researchers found. But while the beta males had levels of sex hormones similar to the alphas, their stress hormones were markedly less than the alphas, Laurence R. Gesquiere of Princeton University and colleagues report in Friday's edition of the journal Science.

So, given that baboons are primates related to humans, what does this tell us about people?

Not much, says Robert M. Sapolsky, a stress expert and biology professor at Stanford University, who called the comparison sheer speculation at this point.

"A baboon troop is not a corporation with an executive — alpha male or otherwise — making decisions," said Sapolsky, who was not part of the research team.

Gesquiere said that when high status comes with both high costs and benefits, including physiological stress in human or nonhuman groups, the result may either be less time in the high status position or cumulative "wear and tear" that affects long-term health. Detailed studies of status-specific costs and benefits are important tasks for the future, she said.

An earlier theory called "executive stress syndrome" has been shown to have been flawed, and baboon societies do not provide a basis to resurrect it," she added.

That theory was based on monkeys who developed ulcers when put in stressful decision-making conditions but, Sapolsky noted, it was flawed because the "executive" monkeys were chosen for being more emotionally reactive.

Volcano spits, Indonesians split

TENGKU/GETTY IMAGES

▶ The Lokon volcano in central Indonesia erupts early Friday.

An Indonesian volcano spit lava and smoke thousands of feet into the air early Friday, sending panicked residents fleeing down its slopes. There were no immediate reports of casualties.

The first eruption at Mount Lokon occurred late Thursday at 10:46 p.m., said Brian Rulrone, a disaster management agency official. It was followed by a second powerful blast just after midnight and a third at 1:10 a.m.

Darwis Sitinjak, another disaster official, told El Shinta radio from the scene that soldiers and police were helping rescuers evacuate about 500 people who live along the mountain's fertile slopes.

They join 2,000 others who fled Wednesday after being warned to stay far from the 1,750-meter volcano, which has been on high alert for nearly a week, with small eruptions daily.

Indonesia, a vast archipelago of 235 million people, is prone to earthquakes and volcanoes because it sits along the Pacific "Ring of Fire," a horseshoe-shaped string of faults that lines the Pacific Ocean.

Pasta strainer religious right

Driving licence photo approved as it met criterion, police insist

Austrian atheist Niko Alm has won the right to wear a pasta strainer as religious headgear on his driving licence after a three-year struggle against the authorities, Austrian media reported this week.

Niko is a member of the five-year-old "religion" called the Church of the Flying Spaghetti, the devotees of which call themselves "pastafarians."

The purpose of the church is to make an ironic, but serious point. "Pastafarianism is nowhere near as absurd as creationism," Niko says.

Alm applied for the licence after finding out that headgear is allowed in passport photos only for religious reasons, arguing it was a requirement of his faith. But a police spokesman in Vienna said the licence was made because Alm's face was fully visible in the photograph.

A Facebook group created in Niko's honour currently has 1,119 members and is growing.

Murdochs to testify at scandal probe

Father and son earlier said they would not appear before committee

Rupert Murdoch and his son James first refused, then agreed Thursday to appear before U.K. lawmakers investigating phone hacking and police bribery, while in the U.S., the FBI opened an investigation into allegations the Murdoch media empire sought to hack into the phones of Sept. 11 victims.

Those two developments — and the arrest of another former editor of the scandal-sunk U.K. tabloid News of the World — deepened the crisis for Murdoch's News Corp., which has seen its stock price sink as investors ask whether the scandal could drag down the company.

Rebekah Brooks, the chief executive of the Murdochs' British arm, News International, has already said she would appear before the committee.

British lawmakers took the dramatic step of issuing a summons to the once all-powerful Murdochs after they said they would not appear before Parliament's Culture, Media and Sport Committee on Tuesday.

THE METRO LIST

METRO

1 The flipside: Recent years have been riddled with political unrest, ecological catastrophes and trends of increasing inhumanity, and there are still millions without the most basic nourishment and shelter. Consequently, the new Harry Potter movie already has $32 million in advance ticket sales, but to put things into perspective... it's in 3-D.

2 Cotton-eyed Joes: It's Calgary Stampede time again, and everyone's flocking to Southern Alberta for some rodeo, clogging and deep-fried culinary concoctions. Take that, America. You're not the only ones with crazy cowboys and country music.

3 Goliath falls ... on his wallet: One of my favourite '80s comedies is Trading Places. Specifically, when Eddy Murphy and Dan Aykroyd bankrupt their ruthless employers, The Dukes. Recognition of this Karmic retribution sends the Dukes into a meltdown, turning on each other and everyone who once feared and revered them, as one collapses into cardiac arrest, while the other, frothing at the mouth, commences a stroke, yelling, "How could they do this to us? We're ruined!" Anyone else thinking of Rupert Murdoch right now?

4 Need a P?: Lindsay Lohan stood proud last week as the results of her drug tests finally came back negative. Yay! Tests also revealed that she has the healthy testicles of a 12-year-old Mexican boy.

5 Berry picking: I am forbidden from commenting due to my own personal history with Halle, but I will say this: What kind of world do we live in when a writer can't enjoy a peaceful dinner in a tree outside a celebrity's window with binoculars and a camcorder, without her getting all creeped out? Geez. Get over yourself, lady.

6 Canada's got imagination: Ever notice that none of the judges on America's Got Talent are actually American? I mean, if they "got talent," how come they don't "got judges"? In any case, whenever the U.S. has a hit, Canada likes to have its own, less profitable version, hence Citytv's presentation of Canada's Got Talent. CGT will hold auditions this fall for illusionists, acrobats, ventriloquists, rejects from Canadian Idol and So You Think You Can Dance, or anyone who enjoys repeated public disgrace.

7 NKOTBSB: Acronym for the tasteless combination of two exceptionally ripened retro-boybands peddling their respective brands of nostalgic mediocrity to recently divorced mothers reliving a time when their waistlines were favourably offset by the disproportionate dimensions of their hair and shoulders. (New Kids on the Block/Backstreet Boys — now on tour.)

8 Sudan-ly I see: After decades of unrest, South Sudan finally achieved independence on July 9th. The new government must now rise to the challenge of providing necessities for its citizens. Immediate concerns include clean water, roads, schools, currency, Starbucks and a Walmart. Vaya con dios, fellow citizens.

Worth mentioning

GAGGED. Even one of online video's biggest stars isn't immune to copyright claims.

Lady Gaga's YouTube account was suspended Thursday. The notice read that the suspension was due to "multiple or severe violations of YouTube's copyright policy."

The Google Inc.-owned YouTube declined to comment. It's YouTube policy to remove accounts after three copyright violations, though they can be restored after being corrected.

Reports have suggested that the infringing video was a recently uploaded clip of Gaga's performance on Fuji TV.

The account, "ladygagaofficial," is one of two for Gaga. The removed channel is run by Gaga's camp, while she also has an unaffected Vevo account.

The Vevo account, which has more than 1.6 billion views, generally debuts her music videos. Co-owned by Universal Music Group and Sony Entertainment, Vevo is a music-video platform that also distributes videos on YouTube.

The suspension is expected to be temporary.

Replace the gym with 20 litres of wine

Scientists have discovered that resveratrol, a natural substance found in grapes and wine can reverse the negative effects of zero gravity in rats.

Why should you care if you are not an astronaut?

"We feel the resveratrol would be a good way to prevent the effects of physical inactivity for people who cannot undergo regular activity," Dr. Stéphane Blanc said.

For the experiment, two groups of rats were suspended by their tails, to create the effect of zero gravity. One group was given daily 400-milligram-per-kilogram supplements of resveratrol, the others were given nothing.

The scientists initially tested the rats to see whether the resveratrol was able to prevent loss of muscle mass. It was. They then looked at its effect on muscle metabolism. It was positive. After further tests the team found the same dosage of resveratrol had positive effects on bone density and insulin resistance, a cause of diabetes.

According to Blanc, the average person would have to drink 20 litres of wine for the equivalent of one reservatrol supplement given to the rats.

Plot synopsis

- This is the one muggles far and wide have been waiting for; the final face-off between boy wizard Harry Potter and his nemesis Lord Voldemort. Elder wand in hand, the merciless leader of the Death Eaters attacks the Hogwarts School of Witchcraft and Wizardry, bringing about a fiery showdown between Harry, Hermione and Ron and the dark forces who put both the wizarding and muggle worlds at risk.

Best Potter movie yet

Richard Crouse and Phil Brown agree the franchise finale is completely satisfying ◐ Creepy villains Ralph Fiennes, Alan Rickman steal the show

Richard Crouse: Mark, the decision to break the final Potter book into two movies was criticized as a money grab, just a cheap way to get a few extra dollars out of Potterheads before the franchise ends. But I have to tell you I think they made the right move. The movie is completely satisfying, with a well told story and great action scenes. What did you think?

Mark Breslin: Yes, Richard, you're right. The movie is completely satisfying. But I think it's at the expense of the movie that preceded it, which I found inert and talky; the worst of the franchise. But this one felt like a thrilling send-off to characters we've grown to love, with some great action set pieces thrown in for good measure.

RC: This is as close to an all-out action movie as there is in the Potter series. Harry's Horcrux hunt (say that three times fast!) takes up much of the movie leading up to some major revelations, an existential train station scene and a heartwarming conclusion, but along the way it's an exciting ride. A small quibble though. What did you think of the 3D? It didn't add much to the experience for me.

MB: The best thing I can say about the 3D is that it was unobtrusive, letting us pay attention to the complex plotting. But I think the movie, unlike most in the series, doesn't work as a standalone film. It would make little sense if you haven't seen the last few installments. And fans of Ralph Fiennes' Voldemort won't be disappointed — he's as creepy a villain as you can imagine, with lots of screen time. By the way, I did try saying Harry's Horcrux Hunt and was kicked out of the restaurant I was in.

RC: I thought Alan Rickman stole the show. He has the creepiest vocal tics since Boris Karloff and really brought something to a character that could have been one note. And you're right, it isn't a standalone, but it doesn't have to be. Harry Potter has stood at the centre of popular culture for the last decade. The franchise is the thing, not just the one picture.

MB: In which case, I ask you, Richard, which were your favourites? Mine were the first three, when the world of Hogwarts was at its most innocent, and this one, with its brisk pace and brutal efficiency.

RC: I have to tell you, I think the new one is the best of the bunch!

Winnie the Pooh
Genre: Family
Director: Stephen Anderson, Don Hall

Pooh Bear's latest big-screen adventure, simply titled Winnie the Pooh, goes back to the source for its inspiration, weaving together six chapters of Milne's stories to form one satisfying whole.

Directors Stephen Anderson and Don Hall have wisely updated the story — the pace is snappier than the classic 1960's cartoons — but kept the elements that have made Pooh an indispensable character for the under-10 crowd. The gentle humour is in place, along with the beautiful watercolour backgrounds and the voices so connected to the series (they're done by different people now, but are true to the style established by Walt Disney himself). Blank City
Genre: Documentary
Director: Celine Danhier
Stars: Jim Jarmusch, Deborah Harry, John Waters
●●●½
A nostalgic look at the underground filmmaking that emerged from the roach-infested New York of the late '70s and early '80s, a time of impoverished artists stealing equipment to make no-budget movies for punk clubs and art spaces. Not many of the films hold up other than a few crossover arthouse hits like Jim Jarmusch's Stranger Than Paradise, but that doesn't really matter. This documentary is more about capturing the spirit of a generation determined to express themselves and make a mark for at least a few minutes. ● PHIL BROWN

Snow Flower and the Secret Fan
Genre: Drama
Director: Wayne Wang
Stars: Bingbing Li, Gianna Jun
●●½
Ambitiously structured but dramatically underwhelming, Snow Flower and the Secret Fan juxtaposes the stories of two intense female friendships taking place 200 years apart in China.

The opening sequences are promising, but unfortunately director Wayne Wang opts for soggy melodrama down the home stretch, undermining his excellent actors and the impressive production design.
● ADAM NAYMAN

A Better Life
Genre: Drama
Director: Chris Weitz
Stars: Demian Bichir, Jose Julian
●●½
This character study featuring Weeds star Demian Bichir as an illegal immigrant gardener in Los Angeles is a low key and timely drama about building a new life in a new country. Story-wise it doesn't offer much we haven't seen before in similarly themed stories, but acting-wise it is a powerhouse. Bichir hits all the right notes in an award-worthy performance that brings heart and soul to a story that unfortunately feels like a Hollywood-ized take on the plight of illegal immigrants in California.
● RICHARD CROUSE

Life, Above All
Genre: Drama
Director: Oliver Schmitz
Stars: Khomotso Manyaka
●●●●
Notable for its outstanding performance by youngster Khomotso Manyaka, Life, Above All is a drama that places the strong-willed 12-year-old in a tumultuous South African township dealing with poverty and AIDS. While the themes remain heavy, the well-shot, beautifully acted film is an impressive, touching piece of world cinema.

▶ After the 360 Tour - what's next for U2?

As I stood watching U2 play the 105th of 111 shows on their 360 Tour, all I kept thinking was "Now what?"

No tour has sold more tickets or grossed this much money. Every single show throughout the seven legs has sold out — this despite a million tickets having been thrown into disarray by Bono's back injury last year. By the time it comes to an end in Moncton, on the 30th, the total box office take will be somewhere around $700 million.

So I ask again: Now what?

Everyone in the industry that I've heard from — including the mysterious Arthur Foegel of Live Nation, the Canadian mastermind behind this tour and mega-tours by Madonna, the Police, David Bowie and other superstars — acknowledges that there isn't another act on the planet capable of duplicating what U2 has done. Even the U2 organization itself can't imagine anything bigger or more successful.

Why? After 35 years, U2 remains a working rock 'n' roll band that still can release albums and have them go platinum around the world. Their catalogue is so deep that it spans generations of fans. Everyone goes to the shows because they love different parts of that catalogue. Tours are global events that attract heads of state. (When I saw the show in Moscow last summer, Mikhail Gorbachev was in the stands behind me.) There's just not another act with U2's musical firepower or financial backing. There isn't another band capable of raising the start-up capital for staging a tour as big as 360. U2 and their people had to spend upwards of $150 million before a single ticket was sold. The three Claw stages alone cost $35 million each. Their construction is so sophisticated that bidders from four continents want to buy them for conversion into permanent concert pavilions.

In the current musical environment, I can't see anyone ever outdoing this U2 tour. The Rolling Stones? They might come close, but they'd have to play more shows — and at their ages, that would be tough.

I may just have to fly to Moncton to see that final show. Not because I want to see U2 again but because once the lights go down at the end of the set, I fear that we will never, ever see the likes of a rock 'n' roll show on this scale ever again.

Scene in brief

Blake loves NYC, Odd Future

BACK AGAIN. James Blake loves New York. No, really. Beyond the cliche, the singer-songwriter has a thing for the Big Apple.

"It's very quickly becoming my favourite place."

It makes sense, then, that he's performing there again after playing NYC just two months ago. And he's excited to check out some of the other acts.

"There are some people I'm really excited to see. I was fascinated by Odd Future at SXSW. To me, it looked like that festival kind of broke them. They did really well to show people what they can do. I saw them twice."

Premier McGuinty: Please Stop Sending Our Taxes and Jobs Out of Province.

On June 24, 2011 the Board of Metrolinx's announced that a 5 year, $120M government contract to refurbish 121 GO Transit Rail coaches would be awarded to a Montreal firm, Canadian Allied Diesel (CAD). Metrolinx's decision was based solely on CAD being the lowest bidder, by about $2M.

Metrolinx may be saving $2 million but Ontario Taxpayers will lose over $8 million and 110 jobs with the work being sent to Quebec. The loss of jobs in Northern Ontario could be devastating to many communities. The Government is willing to lose $8M to save $2M.

The 110 workers employed by the Ontario Northland Railway on the current GO Transit contract take great pride in their work, so much so that GO Transit officials have said they can't tell the difference between a refurbished coach and a new one. You may be riding in one of those refurbished GO Transit coaches at this very moment. If Metrolinx gets their way, those 110 jobs and your taxes will go out of province, Metrolinx will save their $2 million and you, as an Ontario taxpayer will lose $8 million.

Mr. Premier the math does not add up! Please reverse the decision for the benefit of all Ontarians. If the Premier of Ontario won't stand up for Ontario taxpayers, communities and workers who will? CAW Local 103, Northern Municipal and Business leaders contend that this Metrolinx contract should be awarded to Ontario Northland Railway and that the Ontario Government needs to intervene and reverse this decision.

We ask for your support, please contact the Premier at the number or address below and tell him to keep Ontario taxes and jobs in Ontario for the greater good of Ontario!

Miranda Kerr names her kid after dead ex

Actress gets permission from Bloom to name the baby after her first love

Miranda Kerr named her and Orlando Bloom's son in part after a deceased ex-boyfriend, she tells Australia's Daily Telegraph.

One of baby Flynn's middle names, Christopher, was chosen in honour of Kerr's first boyfriend, Christopher Middlebrook, who died in a car accident as a teenager.

"Chris and I had been dating for two years," she says. "After he died, I wrote him a letter that said I hoped to name my first child after him in some way. I told Orlando and he was the one who said he'd be happy to do that. Orlando's a good guy."

The baby's full name is Flynn Christopher Blanchard Copeland Bloom.

Wilde reeling from divorce

Despite being linked to a number of Hollywood bachelors, Olivia Wilde says she's happy spending some time alone after her divorce from Italian prince Tao Ruspoli.

In fact, she's having a tough time moving on from her life of living with royalty.

"The trauma of the whole thing has been humbling, and for the first time, I'm a little bit wobbly," Wilde tells Marie Claire.

"But I think it's very healthy to spend time alone. You need to know how to be alone and not be defined by another person."

Grant taking the lead in NOTW crusade

SETTLING BEEFS. While Hugh Grant was originally motivated to expose the News of the World phone-hacking scandal because he himself had been hacked, he says a larger sense of outrage quickly took over, according to People magazine.

"I don't think I would be on a crusade if it weren't for the fact that they were winked at by the police, and winked at by our government," Grant says in a lengthy interview with the magazine.

"Although a lot of my stuff comes from personal grievance, I also am properly outraged for my country." METRO

Scarlett going back to Ryan?

GETTING COSY. Less two weeks after their divorce had been finalized, exes Scarlett Johansson and Ryan Reynolds were spotted enjoying a cosy night out at an L.A. restaurant, according to People magazine.

"They were leaning in closely to each other when talking. They were being flirty," a source says.

The amicable dinner date comes amid rumors that Reynolds has been quietly dating Charlize Theron for months.

DOES THAT MAKE HER AUNT BECKY? Rumored couple Renee Zellweger and John Stamos were spotted spending the day at Disney Land recently, where the pair "were having a great time laughing and dancing as they walked from one ride to another," a source tells Us Weekly.

Trying to keep a low profile worked better for Zellweger than Stamos.

Several fans recognized him, asking an incognito Zellweger if she could take a picture of them with the former Full House star.

Ideal grilling season grapes

PETER ROCKWELL
LIQUIDASSETS@EASTLINK.CA

I'm a cookbook fan. Culinary text and images never fail to inspire me to nag my wife to recreate whatever catches my eye.

One of my favourite recent releases is Jeff Potter's Cooking For Geeks (O'Reilly, $43.99). It reads more like an issue of Popular Science than an artsy Gordon Ramsay creation. Potter takes the MythBusters route by explaining the ins and out of everything from baking bread to making things melt in weird ways in what ends up as a fascinating read. But experimenting with Potter may have to wait until after barbecue season: The few months when I can hold up my end of meal creation.

One of my fave grilling grapes is zinfandel and the 2008 Gnarly Head Old Vine Zin ($16.95 - $19.99) is a mocha-meets-deep berry wonder that rocks everything from cuts of beef to burgers. PRICES REFLECT THE RANGE ACROSS CANADA. SOME PRODUCTS MAY NOT BE AVAILABLE IN ALL PROVINCES.

Grill Japanese dishes like the pros

From Classic Yakitori to steak, seafood & veggies, Tadashi Ono and Harris Salat spotlight contemporary & authentic dishes in The Japanese Grill

BOTH PHOTOS: TODD COLEMAN (2011)

This recipe makes four servings.

These Pork Chops with Yuzu-Miso Marinade are marinated in miso overnight for two reasons. First, it takes time for the pork to absorb the miso flavour. Second, it gives the active bacteria culture in miso time to tenderize the meat.

Preparation:

1 Mix miso, sake, mirin, yuzu kosho, scallions, and sesame oil in bowl to make marinade. Pour three-fourths of marinade into baking dish or rimmed sheet pan and reserve rest. Lay pork chops in marinade and flip 4 times to generously coat. Marinate for 12 hours.

2 Preheat grill to two-zone fire (medium and hot). Start grilling on hot heat for about 1 minute, shift the chops to medium heat. After about 4 minutes, flip and repeat the two-zone grilling on the other side. 10 mins total. When pork is ready, it'll be glossy and juicy on outside. Let chops rest for 2 minutes and serve. THE JAPANESE GRILL: FROM CLASSIC YAKITORI TO STEAK SEAFOOD AND VEGETABLES BY TADASHI ONO AND HARRIS SALAT (TEN SPEED PRESS, A DIVISION OF RANDOM HOUSE INC., 2011)

Ingredients:

- 1/4 cup red miso
- 1 tablespoon sake
- 1 tablespoon mirin
- 2 teaspoons red yuzu kosho
- 1/4 cup finely chopped scallions (white and green parts)
- 1 tablespoon plus 1 teaspoon sesame oil
- 4 bone-in pork chops (about 11/2 pounds)

Master the grill

Master the grill with these tips.
1. Trim excess fat from meat before grilling to help reduce flare-ups.
2. Always brush barbecue sauce on food towards the end of cooking to prevent sugars from burning.
3. Never pierce meat with a fork on the grill. This releases juices.

Stratford. Planning your weekend visit

It's a funny thing about dining out in Stratford. Sometimes it will seem that year after year it offers the the "same old, same old", but then suddenly you blink and things are different. This is most definitely one of those years.

FRIDAY NIGHT: The Church, 70 Brunswick St. (519-273-3424).

The menu is back to celebrating the kind of classic favourites this landmark has always done so well. (Main courses run from $26-$47.)

SATURDAY MORNING: The Bakery at Pazzo, 76 Ontario St. (519-508-2244)

The newest addition to the Stratford morning scene, this bright, cheery place really is a working bakery, so it's bustling seven days a week when the doors open at 7 a.m. ($6.50 for a latte and chocolate croissant.)

SATURDAY AFTERNOON: Simple Fish and Chips, 118 Downie St. (519-275-0400)

They do superb fish and chips, all made from sustainable seafood but they also have dishes like the sea scallop and asparagus risotto that won my heart for $14. No wonder I went back three times in one week!

SATURDAY NIGHT: The Old Prune, 151 Albert St. (519-271-5052)

Another longtime Stratford favourite changed hands this year with Bill & Shelley Windsor and Randy Simpson taking ownership, but leaving chef Bryan Steele right where he's done so well.

SUNDAY MORNING: Features, 159 Ontario St. (519-272-1878)

It sits comfortably and unpretentiously on a major downtown corner and serves breakfast, impeccably. No matter what you want, they do it right, from a stack of pancakes to an artful eggs benedict.

▶Jean Paul Gaultier's fall-winter 2011-12 collection will be featured on the runway at the Montreal Fashion and Design Festival on August 3.

Style watchers will be able to angle for a closer glimpse of some of the latest looks from Jean Paul Gaultier at an outdoor runway show in Montreal.

The fall-winter collection from the renowned French designer and couturier will be featured on the catwalk at the upcoming Montreal Fashion and Design Festival.

Gaultier's male muse Tanel Bedrossiantz is slated to fly in from France to take part in the show. The event is scheduled to take place on Aug. 3 at 10 p.m. ET on the festival's main stage in the heart of the city's downtown core at Avenue McGill College and rue Sainte-Catherine.

The runway show is being held in collaboration with the Montreal Museum of Fine Arts, which is currently displaying some of the designer's earlier works in a special exhibition dubbed The Fashion World of Jean Paul Gaultier: From the Sidewalk to the Catwalk.

This year's event, billed as the largest outdoor fashion and design event in North America, will also focus on homegrown talent.

Prior to the Gaultier show, some 25 designers will present their best creations from the most recent Montreal Fashion Week. Bodybag by Jude, Cluc Couture, Denis Gagnon, Envers par Yves Jean Lacasse and Marie Saint Pierre are among the designers and labels being showcased at 9 p.m. ET.

The Mode & Opera show conceived by event organizers Groupe Sensation Mode will feature costumes from Opera de Montreal that have been deconstructed, reworked and transformed. The showcase will be set to music mixed with the operatic voices of soprano Caroline Bleau, baritone Etienne Dupuis and tenor Antoine Belanger. THE CANADIAN PRESS

Clemens' trial tossed due to prosecution's mistake

Judge leaves question of a new trial for former all-star up in the air

Almost as soon as it began, former baseball star Roger Clemens' perjury trial ended Thursday — in a mistrial the judge blamed on prosecutors and said a "first-year law student" would have known to avoid.

U.S. District Judge Reggie Walton called a halt to the trial after prosecutors showed jurors evidence that he had ruled out — videotaped revelations that former teammate Andy Pettitte had said he'd told his wife Clemens confessed to using a drug.

Walton scolded prosecutors and said he couldn't let the former all-star pitcher face prison if convicted on such "extremely prejudicial" evidence.

"Government counsel should have been more cautious."
U.S. DISTRICT JUDGE REGGIE WALTON

"Mr. Clemens has to get a fair trial," Walton said. "In my view, he can't get it now."

Defence lawyer Rusty Hardin, who had asked for the mistrial declaration, patted an unsmiling Clemens on the back as the judge announced his decision. As he left the courthouse, Clemens did not comment but accepted hugs from a couple of court workers, shook hands with the security guards and autographed baseballs for fans waiting outside.

Walton said he would hold a hearing Sept. 2 to decide whether Clemens should face another trial. Hardin told reporters, "I wouldn't even hazard a guess" about what Walton will decide.

Walton could end the prosecution by declaring that a new trial would run afoul of double jeopardy — the right not to be brought to trial twice on the same charges for the same offence. But experts said it was unlikely that he would go that far, especially since the trial was just under way.

Pettitte had told committee investigators that Clemens confessed in 1999 or 2000 that he used human growth hormone.

The quick end on the second day of testimony was the second mistrial involving a superstar accused in baseball's steroids scandal. Barry Bonds was convicted three months ago of obstruction of justice, but a mistrial was called on three more serious false-statements charges after jurors couldn't agree on a verdict.

Blue Jays blast Yanks in return from break

16	7
BLUE JAYS	YANKEES

Edwin Encarnacion and Eric Thames drove in three runs each as the Toronto Blue Jays rode an eight-run first inning to a 16-7 victory over the New York Yankees on Thursday.

In their first game after the all-star break, the Blue Jays (46-47) had a season high 20 hits to go with their season high in runs.

Toronto lost major-league home run leader Jose Bautista in the fourth inning when he twisted his right ankle sliding into third base on a force play on Encarnacion's double-play grounder.

Bautista, who has 31 home runs, is listed as day to day. He was replaced by John McDonald at third base.

Toronto starter Jo-Jo Reyes (5-7) had a 9-0 lead, but made things interesting by allowing seven runs in 5 ⅓ innings, including two home runs by Andruw Jones.

Bartolo Colon (6-5) lasted two-thirds of an inning for New York (53-36), but five of the eight runs charged to him were unearned. He allowed six hits and two walks.

The Jays scored their eight first-inning runs with two out. Only three were earned because of an error by Yankees third baseman Eduardo Nunez, who is filling in while Alex Rodriguez recovers from arthroscopic surgery on his right knee.

8th-placed Toronto FC shake up roster

Vancouver-born midfielder and Jamaican forward join designated player signings Frings and Koevermans

▶ Terry Dunfield

Toronto FC has shaken up its roster with a pair of trades.

Toronto acquired Canadian international midfielder Terry Dunfield from the Vancouver Whitecaps for allocation money and future considerations Thursday.

Then Toronto sent forward Alan Gordon, midfielder Jacob Peterson, and Canadian defender Nana Attakora to San Jose for forward Ryan Johnson.

The 29-year-old Dunfield has one goal and three assists in 12 MLS games this season. The 26-year-old Johnson is a Jamaican international who has 17 goals and 13 assists in 99 games for the Earthquakes.

"We are rebuilding the club and this deal was necessary to continue that process," Toronto head coach Aron Winter said in a statement.

Winter and director of player development Paul Mariner are probably not finished wheeling and dealing. A stud defender is on Toronto FC's wish list.

Calvillo's greatness becoming unquestionable

CFL EXTRA POINTS

DAN TOTH
TORONTO@METRONEWS.CA

The debate over Anthony Calvillo's place in CFL history has started, even though the sensational quarterback is a long way from finished.

Detractors argue that although A.C.'s career numbers make him appear to be the best QB in CFL history, the Als star is just a capable player who profits from playing on great teams.

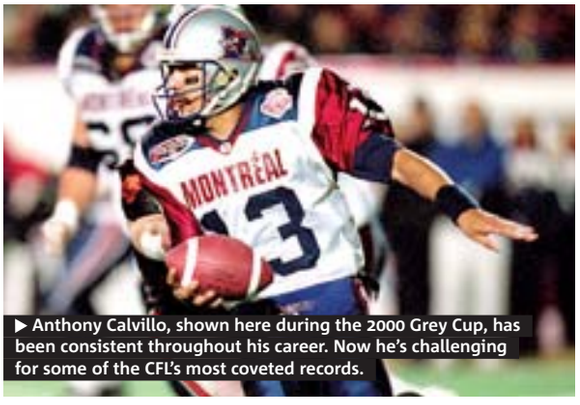
Plenty of CFL followers will tell you Calvillo's not as talented as Doug Flutie, Ron Lancaster, Jeff Garcia, Warren Moon, etc.

The 39-year-old Calvillo last week tied Damon Allen's all-time CFL record of 394 touchdown passes when he threw for five majors in Montreal's win over Saskatchewan.

While Calvillo might not be your first choice if you were starting an expansion team, he's more than just a decent QB who was lucky to land with a great franchise.

Not only does Calvillo own three Grey Cup rings with the Als, he's also on course to establishing a new record for career passing yards before season's end. And don't be surprised if he caps that off with a fourth Grey Cup ring.

CRAIG KLEM/ALLSPORT



▶ Anthony Calvillo, shown here during the 2000 Grey Cup, has been consistent throughout his career. Now he's challenging for some of the CFL's most coveted records.

Dunigan's head still in the game:

Not long ago, a player suffering a mild concussion was said to have "had his bell rung" and would often return to the game with little consideration for future effects. Recent advances in science and a more humane approach to player health have made brain injury research a priority.

CFL Hall of Famer Matt Dunigan sat down with the CFL on TSN's Brian Williams last week to reveal his own personal fight with head injuries and post-concussion syndrome and how concussions have affected his life.

Despite retiring 15 years ago, Dunigan is still affected by the dozen concussions he suffered during his stellar career.

Dunigan will donate his brain to concussion research in hopes that "they'll be able to advance the science and understanding of concussions and brain injuries to help others."

Toothless Lions:

B.C. Lions head coach/general manager Wally Buono said it best.

"It's very ugly," he said. "It's sickening."

Buono was referring to the video of Lions DB Stanley Franks' gruesome knee injury, but he could have just as easily been talking about the Leo's 0-2 start to the CFL season.

Franks was taken off the field on a cart, and the initial diagnosis is a severe dislocation of the knee. Now Buono has another headache. In addition to his team's slow start, he now has to make adjustments in his secondary when the 0-2 Lions face Ricky Ray and the 2-0 Edmonton Eskimos Saturday at Commonwealth Stadium.

My adorable Anne, U still have doubts after everything i did & said honey in person and on kiss. U stayed quiet how much ever I tried...&I am here due to my mistakes. i am so deeply down in love with u. I want u to read Am's real story on bl..pls tell me if u access my liar lover...pls say it right, o spiderman u just simply arrive! no one else other than us will ever kno..just like evrything else. its time u get 2kno how u came into my world. FEP - DON'T GET IT

Today's horoscope

For today's crossword answers and for expanded horoscopes, go to metronews.ca

♈ Aries March 21-April 20 Today's full moon mischief takes place in the career area of your chart. Be wary on the work front.

♉ Taurus April 21-May 21 Others can look on the dark side if they wish but you are determined to see only the good in the world.

♊ Gemini May 22-June 21 You don't lack for talent but what good is it if you don't use it? Get serious.

♋ Cancer June 22-July 22 Promise yourself you'll wait until next week to make relationship decisions. Things will look rosier.

♌ Leo July 23-Aug.23 If you don't take what happens today too seriously it won't hurt you too much.

♍ Virgo Aug. 24- Sept. 22 Today's full moon urges you to team up with a friend or colleague and spread the load you carry.

♎ Libra Sept. 23-Oct. 23 You will have to deal with some rather raw emotions over the next 24 hours.

♏ Scorpio Oct. 24-Nov. 22 Today's full moon could bring a few shocks, but if you look at them from a wider perspective you will realize they are not so important.

♐ Sagittarius Nov. 23-Dec. 21 You'll feel more secure once today's full moon begins to fade.

♑ Capricorn Dec. 22-Jan. 20 Sometimes it can be easy to lose faith in yourself and it seems your rivals are doing better than you.

♒ Aquarius Jan. 21-Feb. 18 You must resist the temptation to believe that you have enemies hiding around each and every corner.

♓ Pisces Feb. 19-March 20. There will be a fair amount of criticism flying about today. It's just jealousy. SALLY BROMPTON
